Achieving Promotion through the Clinical Expertise and Innovation Area of Excellence
Saturday, November 18, 2017
08:00 - 11:45 am
Seminar Room A053, North Hall Building, Weill Cornell Medicine - Qatar

Overview

This seminar prepares clinical faculty at Weill Cornell Medical College (WCMC) for promotion as clinician educators. The seminar discusses the promotion criteria and how to identify opportunities to fulfill the criteria. It also explains and provides examples of how to prepare a strong evidence-based dossier.

Target Audience

This seminar is designed for assistant professors at WCMC planning to apply for promotion to associate professor rank.

Overall Learning Objectives

1. Summarize WCMC criteria and principles on the Clinical Expertise and Innovation Area of Excellence.
2. Recognize the importance of faculty development.
3. Develop an evidence-based promotion dossier.
4. Identify the resources (human and physical) and requirements for preparing for faculty promotion.
5. Plan and prepare goals for promotion to a higher clinical faculty rank.

*Due to continuous road works within Education City, it is best to enter from Gate 2. If you are coming from Immigration Roundabout, upon reaching the second signal make a U-turn and enter Gate 2. Upon entering Gate 2, turn left at the first r/a and go straight to the underground parking (keep left as you may mistakenly enter QF Headquarters’ parking area).

It is advisable to enter the college through the North Hall entrance; it is the building on your right if you are facing the front facade of the college, or the building on the left if you are at the rear of the college and exiting from the underground parking - please watch out for the signage. Kindly bring your WCM-Q ID badge, if you already have one, for ease of access to the building’s main entrances.
