Health and YOU
Community Wellness Series

Family medicine is not just the front door but the “heart” of the healthcare system

This session will share insights from a family physician perspective on how each person can optimize their goals of achieving wellness by consulting a family physician.

Speaker

Dr. Stella Major
Associate Professor of Family Medicine in Clinical Medicine, Weill Cornell Medicine-Qatar

Dr. Stella Major is an associate professor of family medicine & holds a full-time faculty position in the Division of Medical Education at Weill Cornell Medicine Qatar.

She obtained her medical degree from the Imperial College School of Medicine, in London, and specialized in General Practice at the Northwick Park Hospital, London. She holds diplomas in Child Health (DCH), Obstetrics and Gynecology (DRCOG) and family planning (DFFP) and is board certified in General Practice, UK. A member of the Royal College of General Practitioners (MRCGP-UK), in 2011 was promoted to Fellow of the Royal College of General Practice (FRCGP-UK) for contributing to education, research, and clinical practice in the UK and internationally. She maintains an active license to practice as a General Practitioner in the UK and Qatar.

She holds numerous awards in teaching and educational innovation and grants for course design and research in medical education. She serves as deputy national representative to the International Association for Communication in Healthcare (EACH) and mentors students interested in exploring the use of Virtual Reality Technology to enhance empathy and humanism in medicine.

She is of British Armenian heritage, speaks numerous languages and has a keen interest in linguistics, dance and photography.