

About Box

Box is a free service for WCM-Q faculty, staff, and students that allows you to share and collaborate on documents and other files online. With a WCM-Q Box account, you can invite both WCM-Q and non-WCM-Q people to collaborate with you.

Using Box, you can:

- Manage and preview files in many formats.
- Access content through all major browsers, and through mobile devices running iOS, Android, and Blackberry.
- Share files and folders while controlling access with a range of permissions from preview-only to full editing and collaboration rights.
- Comment on files.
- Create simple workflows.
- Take advantage of related applications and file synchronization tools.

WCM-Q Box Account

WCM-Q Box accounts are available to current faculty, staff, and students. WCM-Q Box accounts provide more storage space and features than a personal Box accounts, but they should only be used for university related content.

Supported Official Box Apps

Box has Official Apps that they are contractually obligated to support and all are available under WCM-Q's Box Customer Agreement (see available Official Box developed apps).
